

TOUGHS ASSAIL ROOSEVELT.

HE IS GROSSLY INSULTED BY A NEWS-BOY MOB AT A CHURCH DOOR.

Organized Gang of Employees of "Hearst's Chicago American" Lie in Wait for the Governor and Reville Him With Filthy Language in the Presence of the Congregation as It Leaves Church—Presence of Women Is No Bar to the Villain Attack.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Gov. Roosevelt today had an experience in the disorderly results of Brevette techniques, which was much more disturbing to him than all the clubs and bricks of Victor, Col. He was assailed on leaving church this morning by a mob of newsboys employed by Hearst's "Chicago American." He was called all the vile names known to the newsboys' fertile vocabulary on the way.

Gov. Roosevelt went this morning to the church which he always attends when he visits Chicago, the Trinity, on West Park street. It is an unpretentious building. The congregation is so far from wealthy that the church is not yet tired with pews and the people sit on rows of chairs arranged before a raised platform on which the minister stands. The congregation is very small and it is very proud of Gov. Roosevelt's visit.

Gov. Roosevelt was almost the last member from the congregation to reach the church. He was accompanied by Col. Curtis Guild, Jr., of Boston, who has been with him on his Western tour and who was at his side during the Victor riot. As they entered the church the Governor and Col. Guild nearly fell over a newsboy who was shouting in the street and had a bundle of "Americans" under his arms. The boy caught sight of the Governor and followed the two up to the very door of the church. Just as the Governor entered the boy shouted after him "Hullo, Teddy." The Governor has been very used to such harmless and spontaneous attentions as this in the last few weeks and ignored the remark altogether. It, indeed, he was conscious of it at all.

When the Governor came out of the church an hour or so later he was confronted with a dirty mob of ragamuffins, headed by the same sixteen-year-old boy who had been in his way when he entered. The boys and young men, for there were not a few in the crowd who were members of the congregation who had gone out before Gov. Roosevelt and were hustling the women worshippers roughly when the Governor stepped out of the door. He was greeted with a volley of filthy epithets and was coupled with the loud announcement of the ragpicker:

"Here comes the—"
The Governor stopped short for a moment. He did not realize that he was the object of the attack. When it came over him that he was the only one who should be treated with a deluge of vilification on the women and children who were about him face flushed and he took a quick step forward toward the nearest of the crowd which was abusing him. The gang had taken care to keep well out of his reach and the Governor did not attempt to catch any of them.

"Misericordias, he said in a low tone that was terribly distinct. "Be quiet!" The crowd scattered up and down the sidewalk so that the Governor passed between two gangs of the newsboys, each of whom was yelling at him at the top of his voice. The things they said were many of them too vile even to be expressed by dashes. The limit of ragamuffin biliousness was achieved.

Roosevelt was told in blasphemous and filthy terms that a man who would show a defiance toward the people should be treated as a dog. He was asked how he would be treated to death. Mrs. Place, whom he will remember, the Governor refused to pardon after she had been sentenced to be killed for the murder of her stepdaughter. Gov. Roosevelt paid no attention to any of the abuse and the crowd of surprise, and returned to the hotel in anything but a pleasant frame of mind. In speaking of the matter afterward he said that the time and place of assault was such that he felt much worse.

It was under the impression that the Governor felt with particular keenness the nature of the insults and the attack because it was only by a chance that some of the members of his family had not come on from New York to join him in Chicago today. If any of them had, one thing is certain, they would have been with him at the church. The incident spoiled all the good effects of the Governor's day of rest and put him in an unhappy frame of mind.

The incident was the subject of disquieted and angry comment at the Auditorium, the headquarters for the rest of the day. It was the opinion of most of those who spoke of the matter that there was something more than a mere inspiration of editorial articles working in the brains of the young men and boys who thus insulted Gov. Roosevelt. Mr. Keane and others at headquarters had a definite idea that some one in authority over the newsboys had instructed them to do all they could to make trouble for Republican meetings whenever possible and particularly for Gov. Roosevelt while he was in the city. The newsboys were American office, who were greatly disturbed when they found that what lengths their employers had gone in their insults to the city's guest.

The American recently had a good deal of trouble in keeping papers, the street at all because his newsboys were assailed and mobbed by persons said to be employed by rival newspapers. At that time particular attention was paid to getting the toughest specimens possible of young humanity to act as carriers for the "Americans." A certain sort of offensive and defensive organization was effected among them which might easily, it was said, be turned to all sorts of uses. Certainly the racing and betting mob that ran through the streets after the Governor's carriage upon his arrival on Saturday night acted with a uniformity and precision that could not well have been the result of spontaneous desire to make trouble.

Heretofore when Gov. Roosevelt has visited the Trinity Church Reformed Church he has always been asked by the pastor to make a little address to the congregation and has always responded with a brief talk about some subject not connected with politics. To-day, however, instead of asking the Governor to address the congregation, the Rev. Mr. Moody turned to Gov. Roosevelt at the completion of the service and said:

"We have a great pride and pleasure in seeing our brother from New York, the distinguished Governor of the State, is among us. It would be cruel, and not hospitality, to him to ask that he should address us after the strain in which he has been put during the last few days, but, perhaps, he would be willing to stand up and shake hands with the members of the congregation. We, his fellow-churchmen, would much like to greet him in that way."

The men and women then came forward and shook hands with the Governor and chatted a few minutes with him. It was from their friendly greetings that he walked out to meet the gang in the street with his arms full of Americans and his mouth full of filth.

Notwithstanding the condition of the Governor's voice he will not cancel the engagements he has made to speak in Illinois between Chicago and East St. Louis tomorrow and the programme will be stuck to. His speeches, however, will be very brief.

HAS GORMAN GOT OUT?

Report of His Withdrawal From Democratic Committee and the Campaign.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—It was reported this evening that ex-Senator Arthur P. Gorman of Maryland had resigned from the Democratic National Committee and all its sub-committees, as well as from the Maryland State Committee, chairman James K. Jones of the Democratic National Committee declined to say to-night whether or not the report was true. It is very generally believed here that Mr. Gorman has resigned, but that Mr. Jones and Mr. Gorman, who is now in Chicago, are working to get Mr. Gorman to have him reconsider his action.

Ex-Senator Gorman is on his way to Baltimore, where he will speak to-night. Ex-Senator Arthur P. Gorman is billed to speak at the National Hotel in Baltimore, Md., tomorrow evening. It is not known whether he will speak or not. His health is poor, and he does not like the platform. It will be for a very short speech. Mr. Gorman spent three days in town last week and told ex-Senator Jones, according to reports, that Bryan had no chance of election and that he, ex-Senator Gorman, was tired of the whole campaign.

HARVARD PROFESSORS NOT BY A MEN

Investigation Shows That Very Few Intend to Support the Democratic Ticket.

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—The statement made at the Massachusetts Bryan Club meeting on last Friday, that "nearly all the Harvard professors are going to vote for Bryan," has turned out to be another dream worthy of the prophetic soul of George Fred Williams. Even the professor from whom the statement was said to have originally originated does not believe it. A unphased canvass yesterday among the faculty disclosed that most professors are for McKinley, four for Bryan and one undecided. More Bryan supporters might have been found if there had been any professor who could tell who they were.

"I know of just one man who says he favors Bryan," said Prof. MacVane, "and that one turned out to be a student in his first year."

Albert Bushnell Hart, the historian, said: "I am strong for McKinley and Roosevelt. I believe thoroughly in the platform and in the man. I am sure that at least two-thirds of the Harvard faculty will vote for them."

Prof. Shaler, dean of the scientific school, spoke to the point:

"When I find my party I shall be a Democrat, but this year I shall support McKinley."

MCKINLEY LEAVE CANTON TO-DAY.

This train has a long wait at Canton during the night and the night and the morning and long stops of the regular train.

No definite plans have been made for the return to Washington, but the President will probably be here several days in advance of election day. When he will proceed to Washington is not known. The President's departure from Canton is expected to be at 10 o'clock. The President's departure from Canton is expected to be at 10 o'clock. HEARD JOE ULLMAN WAS SHOT.

His Brother and a Crowd of Reporters Hunt for the Bookmaker.

Joe Ullman, the bookmaker and proprietor of a club at West Fortieth street, called the bluff of James Kilgus the other day when the latter said he wanted to bet $20,000 to $100,000 that McKinley wouldn't carry Ohio, was reported last night to have been shot in the arm at Broadway and Forty-second street. Both are old friends of the family. The President's father-in-law, Mr. McKinley, was shot in the arm at Broadway and Forty-second street. SAYS HIS SON ROBBED HIM.

Lawyer Bates Has Other Troubles. His Yacht Having Been Labeled for Debt.

POCONO, N. J., Oct. 7.—Henry W. Bates, a New York lawyer with an office at 76 Wall street, who has been cruising up the Hudson river with his family, en route to the St. Lawrence, on the steam yacht Augusta, which he recently purchased from J. F. Zimmerman of Philadelphia, complained to Chief McCabe today that his son, Henry Bates Bates, with Thomas Bates, the chief engineer, of Elizabeth, N. J., had stolen his diamond ring, valued at $500, and after stripping the cabin of valuables and stealing all the money on board had gone away. To add to Lawyer Bates' troubles his yacht had been labeled for a debt contracted before he purchased her and is in custody of the United States marshal.

Mr. Bates, with his family, consisting of his wife, daughter and son, arrived at Poconoco, Pa., yesterday. Mr. Bates went to New York on Wednesday night, the boy and chief engineer, spending the night in Poconoco, leaving Mr. Bates, aged 15, and his mother's sister, a young girl, to stay at the hotel. On Thursday young Bates and the chief engineer, who had been with him since the morning, were seen by the police. They were seen by the police. They were seen by the police.

LOOKING TO ELECTION DAY.

CHAIRMAN HANNA'S CONFERENCE BEFORE GOING ON THE STUMP.

He Talks Over the Situation in the West and Northwest—Indiana Promised to McKinley by Its Senators and National Committee—Hanna Going for Pettigrew's Scalp.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Chairman Hanna of the Republican National Committee has had conferences with other Republican campaigners all day. He has had a number of interesting talks with Gov. Roosevelt and on all occasions has complimented the Governor on his ability and sturdiness as a campaigner. Among those who talked with Senator Hanna today were Senator Cullom of Illinois, Senators Fairbank and Hawley of Wisconsin, and Congressman Harry S. New of Indiana, Perry Heath, Senator John C. Spooner and Henry C. Payne of Wisconsin, Ernest E. Hart, National Committeeman for Iowa and R. B. Snyder, National Committeeman for Nebraska.

Senator Spooner and Senator Fairbank went over the situation in Wisconsin, Minnesota and the Northwestern States. A number of preliminary talks have been held and all indicate that the States, as in 1896, are solid for McKinley and sound money. Senator Spooner was asked what he thought of Wisconsin. "Oh," he laconically replied, "about a million dollars." Mr. Fairbanks, Mr. Beveridge and Mr. New spoke for Indiana and it was their testimony that a stiff fight was on, but that eventually this State would be found solid for McKinley. Mr. New added that in his judgment things were so shaping themselves that the Hoosier State would give a larger plurality for McKinley than it did in 1896 when the plurality was 18,181.

So much has been said about Indiana that the pluralities in the State from 1872 will be interesting. They are: 1872, Republican, 22,515; 1876, Democratic, 10,474; 1880, Republican, 6,515; 1884, Democratic, 13,736; 1888, Republican, 6,641; 1892, Democratic, 10,924; 1896, Democratic, 6,512; 1898, Republican, 3,324; 1888, Republican, 2,848; 1890, Democratic, 10,576; 1892, Democratic, 7,125; 1894, Republican, 44,673; 1896, Republican, 18,181; 1898, Republican, 17,518.

It was the testimony of Mr. Fairbanks, Mr. Beveridge and Mr. New that every speech made by Mr. Bryan in Indiana strengthened the Republican cause. They base this assertion on the fact that McKinley and Hanna, in their statements as to the issues of the campaign.

Senator Cullom spoke up for Illinois. The Bryanites have great hopes of carrying this State, and they base their hopes on what they say is to be a great uprising against the Republican party here in Cook county. In 1896 McKinley carried the county by 10,877 votes. The State of Illinois by 142,048 plurality. Willis J. Abbott, Mr. Bryan's chief press agent, seems to believe, however, that there is a scheme on foot on the part of Mayor Carter H. Harrison "to throw the State to McKinley." Mr. Abbott said:

"Why, when Bourke Cockran spoke in the Coliseum a little over a week ago there were only ten pollmen on guard, whereas last night when Roosevelt spoke there were forty police officers on guard. It is all very strange to me."

The final touches to Senator Hanna's speech-making tour outside of Illinois were made today. He is to accompany Senator Frye of Maine Monday night and Tuesday morning to be traversed in Wisconsin, Minnesota, South Dakota and Nebraska. The grand wind-up is to be in Lincoln, Mr. Bryan's home. Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota. It was said to-night, is whether his vitriolic tongue in order to give Senator Hanna a representative speech. Senator Hanna is determined to beat Mr. Pettigrew for the United States Senate. If it is within the range of possibilities, Senator Hanna reiterated tonight that it was by no means uncertain that the Republicans would carry Nebraska, Mr. Bryan's own State.

In use McKinley won the Electoral College by 95 votes. While Senator Hanna does not see how it is possible for Bryan to overcome that majority in the Electoral College, he nevertheless says in most earnest terms that there should be no let up in the fight. On the contrary, he urged greater vigilance and determination to smash Bryan and Bryanism finally and forever.

Senator Dewey arrived tonight. He is to speak to-morrow night. "New York's all right," he said, "for McKinley and Roosevelt. It is all a matter of morality, and not make any mistake about it."

CROKER OUT OF ALL COMPANIES.

No Longer Interested in Auto-Trucks, the Honing Business or Gas.

The Hon. Richard Croker, chief of the Democratic party in New York State from Montauk Point to Erie, said yesterday that he was "out of all companies." This announcement was brought about by the publication in THE SUN of an article in the "Auto-Truck" company, which proposes to monopolize all of the trucking business in this city. The company was organized two years ago and Mr. Croker was one of its most conspicuous members. He used to devote a great deal of time to its affairs. When Mr. Croker was in the "Auto-Truck" company, it was rather dropped out of sight. It hasn't put any trucks on the streets and some folks thought that its plans had miscarried. The officers say that this is not so, however, and that the company is very much alive; but Mr. Croker says that he doesn't know anything about it.

"I am not in the Auto-Truck Company any more," said Mr. Croker last evening. "I haven't been for some time."

Mr. Croker walked away a few paces after saying this. Then he turned and retraced his steps.

"I am not in any companies any more," he said. "I am out of all of them."

Then Mr. Croker went away. The announcement that he is out of all companies will surprise a great many persons. Mr. Croker has been a great deal of time to its affairs. CHINESE ARMY GATHERS?

BERLIN HEARS THAT 200,000 MEN ARE MARCHING TO SINGAPORE.

To Join Gen. Tang Tzu-Hsiang and the Chinese Coast There—Hunners from Shanghai of a Threatened Attack on China.

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—A Shanghai despatch to the Lokai-Zeniger says 200,000 Chinese troops, armed with modern weapons, are marching from all the provinces to join Gen. Tang Tzu-Hsiang at Singapur where the Chinese coast has gone. The Chinese still possess modern guns and an immense quantity of stores.

A detachment of American marines has arrived at Singapur from Manila. Most of the other American detachments along the lines of communication are moving in the direction of Taku.

A Tientsin despatch of Friday's date says that Li Hung Chang has ordered that five Belgian engineers and fifteen missionaries, who have been in Tientsin for some time, are to be sent to the coast. The missionaries are to be sent to the coast. The missionaries are to be sent to the coast.

The Standard's Tientsin correspondent reports that the Germans met with a reverse a few miles south of there on Friday last. They came in contact with 8,000 Chinese and were obliged to retire to Tientsin. The Chinese were described as "Boxers," but the Standard's correspondent says it is suspected that they are some of Li Hung Chang's veterans who have been ordered to wait near in case the allies should attempt to check Earl Li's progress to Peking.

Another report records the return of the Germans to Tientsin, but makes no mention of a reverse. The force numbered 500 and had two guns.

A Shanghai despatch to the Standard says Ying Shih, who was degraded at the same time as the other Chinese, has been degraded to a high post. The Chinese continue pushing their military preparations. There is the utmost activity in the manufacture of arms and ammunition and in putting the various forts in a state of defence. Chang Ching, the reported to have been appointed a Pei-Chow colonel, has been ordered to expedite the completion of the Hanyang arsenal.

A Peking despatch to the Times says that Prince Tuan and other Boxer leaders who were recently ordered degraded from the present rank of the Imperial Chinese army, have dictated themselves the decree determining their own punishment, which necessarily is insufficient to meet Germany's demands.

The same correspondent says that the Russians, after having sacked the Summer Palace and withdrawn the guard, have decided to return to the Chinese as they were Russian property in which the remainder of the allies had no right.

A Shanghai despatch to the Times says it is announced that Hui Tai, a nephew of the Emperor Dowager, whom the Emperor deposed in 1908, was captured by Prince Tuan in the Tsung-li-Yamen. He has also been appointed Governor-General in succession to Gen. Yang Lu.
